

Police sketch of Dallas Poet

Depraved Dallas Poets threaten Austin

Austin (AP) the Word poetry magazine is reported to be bringing a unruly, subversive mob of pinko-commie poets south to Austin. Reports indicate they haven't showered in weeks and throw small children from tall buildings. Governor Bush has asked the public to remain calm. "I am in charge," Secretary of State Bob Bullock is reported to have said, before ordering the legislature into session to declare poetry a second degree felony. Lindon LaRoche supporters in the legislature accused the administration of being soft on poetry.

Citizens are urged to report any sightings to the National Guard. "You can spot 'em by the puss spewing from their cheeks," Lieutenant Newt advised. Bob Bullock added, "They've even printed books of them subversive poems, big fancy things. You know the Devil always come looking pretty." Reportedly they've been alledgely inflicting poetry throughout Dallas and on peace-loving Americans in Albuquerque, Denver and New York. One National Guard General shook the foam off his mouth and muttered when asked about the threat posed by Dallas poets to chil-

the Word Poets — 11:30 -12:30

High Noonish at Electric Lounge Sat April 8 '95 and individually Sun April 9 '95

Tim Wood — 12:10 pm Fran Carris — 1:20 pm
Carl Lombardi — 1:35 pm Charlie Moon — standby
Jonathan Van Voorhees — 3:05 pm
Clebo Rainey — 11 pm

Also on Fri — 6:30 pm — Charley with the Black Poets
— 7:40 pm at Mexic-Arte — Clebo

Third Austin International Poetry Festival
Electric Lounge—302 Bowie Mexic-Arte Museum—419 Congress